Safer workplace

– Ramp Group CIP

Developing products with minimum environmental impacts throughout their entire lifespan is one of our controlling principles at Ramp Group. Together with safety-oriented design and development, our environmentally friendly development is central to our product responsibility policy. Our exclusive guidelines help us develop products with:

- Improved recyclability and energy and resource efficiency
- Reduced noise and detrimental air discharges, waste, restricted substance and non-renewable resources
- Nominal use of hazardous materials

This process of continuous improvement allows us to maintain our competitive edge.

We pursue to provide a working atmosphere that supports our employees' health and safety. By using shared working technologies, we offer employees more freedom about how, when, and where they work to help them equalize work and personal accountabilities.

The safety of our employees is paramount. Ramp Group's Occupational Health and Safety Assessment System aims to detect and reduce the risk of illness or injury for all employees by stereotyping health and safety management across our operations and empowering local teams to keep a vigil on its effectiveness.
